Plans for Irrigation.
Gov. N. O. Murphy of Arizona, who was in Chicago, stated that it had been decided by the governors of several of the western states to make Chicago the headquarters of the National Irrigation Association this winter. "We are of the opinion," he said, "the government should not neglect the opportunities of development offered in several of the western arid states by aiding in providing for a national system of irrigation. We want an appropriation of $25,000 for surveys." Gov. Otero of New Mexico was also in Chicago on his way to Washington to work against the Culbertson bill, which provides for the damming of the Rio Grande River at El Paso.

Knock-Out Blow Is Fatal.
Frank Welch, the pugilist, died Tuesday at Easton, Pa., from the effects of his fight at Cedar Park, Philadelphia, N. J., on New Year's eve with Paddy Donovan. Welch's case is one of the most remarkable on record. He had not been conscious from the time he collapsed in the ring until he died, a period of over a week. Welch, whose real name was Frank Grabfelder, was 21 years old and lived in Philadelphia. Warrants are out for the arrest of about thirty men connected with the fight, and Donovan and several others are in jail at Belvidere, N. J.

Miners Have Narrow Escape.
A landslide or cave-in occurred at Santiago mine, some six miles from here, entombing sixty men. The main entrance to the mine, which is to the tunnel plan, was completely stopped. The mine was enveloped in total darkness, and the entombed miners had to crawl and feel their way to a small entrance or air tunnel nearly a mile from the main entrance, where the cave-in occurred. Fortunately no one was seriously hurt.
